Recently approved modifications to the USKBTC constitution and by-laws will be mailed to members for a vote. After approval this summer, the AKC requested minor language modifications in the document.

With a years experience and improved weather, MCKC personnel in co-operation with MC Community College did a good job of moving traffic and doing their best to meet everyone's needs and expectations.

Dr. Giger's presentation on Factor XI Mutation was both well attended and received. Every test kit available was claimed and hopefully returned to Dr. Giger for utilization in his study.

Thanks to ALL USKBTC members from around the U.S. who worked so hard to ensure the success of the Montgomery week events.

Lisa Frankland, Bill Kearney, Dr. Jann Lane, Tom Rogers and Carol Wert were elected to the board. The new officers for the coming year are Carl Ashby, treasurer, Charlie Redman, secretary, Anthony Lopez, vice president and yours truly, president.

Susan Schneider will work with Carl on 2007 dues collection. Dr. Jann Lane will collaborate with Charlie Redman on secretarial responsibilities.

Lisa Frankland, our new national rescue co-coordinator, made recommendations to the board on comprehensive changes in the USKBTC rescue program. We are seeking input from other breed clubs and the AKC as to their experience with such changes.

Thanks to those who responded to the USKBTC Survey and Carol Kearney for compiling the results. While we wish the response (19%) would have been higher we were encouraged by the large number of members volunteering for various activities. You will be contacted! The survey is being utilized by the board with the objective of improving the USKBTC.

Herding has been approved for Kerry's on a trial basis in 2007 by the AKC. This offers all those interested in this unique sport an opportunity to further enjoy their Kerry's. Permanent approval will be based on participation in herding events.

The USKBTC Board of Directors passed a resolution recommending that all breeders have their puppies EITHER microchipped or tattooed prior to placing them. This action was taken at the October 4, 2006 Board meeting in Trevoise Pa. This policy is consistent with the AKC'S position and supportive of it's CAR (Companion Animal Recovery) non-profit entity. The USKBTC sponsors microchip clinics at many of our events and encourages everyone to take advantage of this service.

The USKBTC board has approved participation in the Purina PPCP program. Details on the program are published in this issue of BP and posted on the web site.

In Memory of the Tilsworths . . .

Rozanne Galligan

It is my privilege to share some special memories about a wonderful couple, Dorothy and Paul Tilsworth. They both died this August. Paul died August 19th and Dorothy died August 31st.

Devotion is the key word.

Devotion to each other to the very end: These last years have been difficult, they have suffered from many health problems.

Devotion to their Kerries and all that went with it; the friends, the shows, the litters of wonderful puppies and the grooming, grooming, grooming. Dorothy was an expert. They loved going to the shows. Many of you remember Dorothy showing her beautiful Penny or my Chatty Kathy. Dorothy's bitches were poetry in motion.

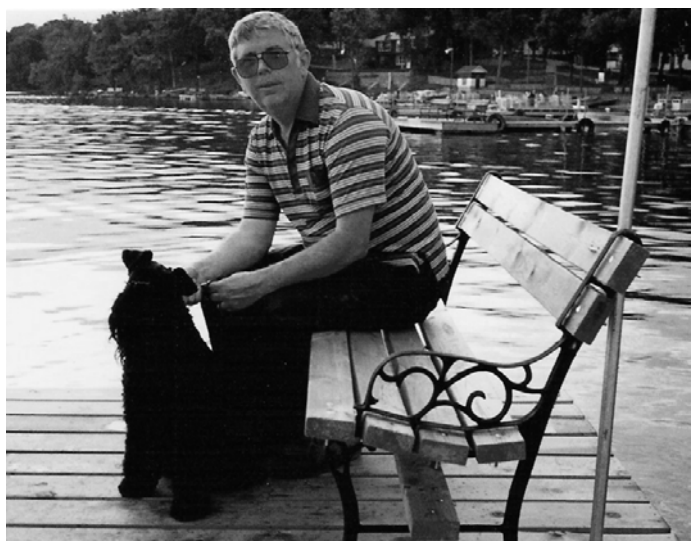

Devoted to the breed as a whole; they were impeccable breeders, carefully watching blood-lines and temperament. Dorothy served on the National Kerry Blue Terrier board for several years.

Mike and I met Dorothy and Paul in the early 70's. Mike had grown up with Kerries, so naturally we had a Kerry. We took our first Kerry over to Dorothy so she could groom him. He was a loveable guy with a big head and lots of personality. Our friendship grew from sharing a love of Kerry Blues. From then on we bought all of our Kerries from them and they introduced us to the world of dog shows. Dorothy would groom and show them and we would spoil them. One story that comes to mind here: Dorothy had just trimmed Chatty and we were picking her up. They had a big pond in their front yard – all of a sudden a group of ducks came around the corner of the house and Chatty was off – Chatty took a flying leap and landed in the pond. Poor Dorothy – all her beautiful grooming gone to the ducks!

As time went on, they moved to Kentucky, but we always stayed in touch. Their health began to fail in the late 90's and they were no longer able to breed their beautiful Kerries. In 2000, when I decided to have my first litter of pups, they were more than willing to help, and I couldn't have done it without them. They gave lots of encouragement and good advice, from the construction of the whelping box to answering the day to day questions.

Dorothy and Paul shared their love and knowledge of Kerries, always willing to serve as mentors. Many of us have owned a Glenvista Kerry or have them in our dogs' pedigrees. They knew and shared with many how special life can be when it includes a Kerry Blue.

And so we say good bye to a wonderful couple – devoted to each other and to our wonderful Breed. Now they are watching all of us and smiling at the antics of our furry Kerry friends.

Rescue News

As reported in the last issue of Blueprints, Lynn Duckett has resigned as Rescue Coordinator after several years in this position. All of us who worked with her are thankful for the extremely hard work she put in modernizing our Rescue program while dealing with an increasing number of Kerry Blue Terriers in puppy mills and from other unscrupulous individuals looking to profit from the attention our breed has attracted in recent years. I hope I can live up to the high standards Lynn has set for USKBTC Rescue while continuing to update and improve our policy and procedures, and welcome any input and guidance that she and others working on the front lines of our national and chapter clubs' Rescue programs wish to provide.

And there are a few changes being proposed to USKBTC Rescue. Mainly we are reemphasizing that we are the final line of defense in helping Kerry Blue Terriers. The primary one has always been the breeder; in fact, our Code of Ethics states that breeders should "be prepared to assume lifetime responsibility for any litter produced." Next are the chapter clubs, which have been expected to adhere to USKBTC Rescue procedures for the past several years. Only if these first two lines of defense fail—the breeder cannot be located, has extraordinary circumstances that prevent him from taking the dog back, or outright refuses to take responsibility, and there is no chapter club nearby to help—only then should USKBTC Rescue have to step in. By stressing personal responsibility and keeping more of the tasks of fostering, evaluating, and placing dogs on the local level, we hope to provide more thorough coverage while serving those dogs most in need of assistance, and not placing an inordinate burden on any one person or club. To help accomplish this, I am discussing with the rest of the board ways for all the USKBTC and chapter club Rescue volunteers to network, perhaps with our own internet list which will allow us to share information about dogs in need of rescue/placement and potential adopters.

As I am writing this, a very disturbing incident is being heatedly discussed on the internet: a Kerry bred by a Club member was relinquished by its owner to another rescue organization, which not only failed to inform the breeder, but now refuses to return the dog or even to share information about this dog's health or whereabouts with her. The breeder did everything she was supposed to in terms of checking out the home and follow-up; the owner lived in a different state but another Club member who lived nearby showed this lady how to groom and spoke to her regularly. And the owner agreed that she would return the dog to its breeder if she ever had to give her up for whatever reason. After her husband died, the owner assured both these people that she loved the dog and would keep her the rest of her life. But a couple of years later the owner decided to move to another state to be closer to family, to a place that did not allow dogs. Perhaps she was embarrassed and did not want to deal with either the breeder or the other Club member directly (this happens more often than you'd think), or simply forgot how to get in touch with them with all the stress and disorder of moving. She contacted "Kerry Rescue" and a local volunteer collected both the dog and a sizable cash donation from her. The owner gave her the names of the breeder and the other Club member who had been helping her, but nobody in this organization bothered to contact either one of them. The aforementioned volunteer, who is now fostering this dog, has vowed to "make her disappear" rather than see her go back to the person who bred her and the home where she lived for most of her 11 years.

This is unfortunately not the first time a shelter or rescue organization has refused to return a dog to its breeder, and it won't be the last. But what is especially outrageous about this incident is that the organization that hijacked this dog is supported by many Kerry breeders and others who support responsible breeding. This group states that it is "dedicated to promoting the welfare of the Kerry Blue Terrier breed..." and claims to support responsible breeders; however, their code of ethics states that breeders "accept full responsibility for the rescue, placement, including expenses, of any dog bred by you, including those sired by your studs." This appears to mean that they can take your dog, with or without your knowledge, and place it, with or without your consent, but expect to receive a donation for their services. How heartbreaking and infuriating as a responsible breeder trying to do the right thing to be informed that you cannot be trusted or are not good enough to take back a dog you bred! How much better would it have been if the breeder had been contacted immediately and been offered her dog back? These people would have been heroes that would have earned the gratitude and support of this breeder and many others.

But, there are a few lessons that we, as breeders and owners, can learn from this. First, do your research before donating your time or money to any organization that claims to help animals. Ask them if they support the responsible breeding of purebred animals? What is their policy regarding returning dogs to their breeders? Do they cooperate with breed rescues, especially those supported by breed clubs? Many of these groups appear innocuous enough at first glance, but have less-publicized goals that often involve animal-rights or anti-breeding agendas. Next, take steps to ensure that you can get your dogs back if something like this ever happens to them. Unfortunately, an oral agreement is not enough if somebody is determined to save your dog from you. A written contract specifying that the dog is to be returned to you (not just that you be notified or have right of first refusal) is good; a co-ownership is even better. A microchip or a DNA profile can prove the dog is actually yours should this fact ever be challenged. Finally, pray that something like this never happens to you or to your dogs!

Remembering Zippy Fleischer...

Her parents gave her the right name. Zippy was to be an energetic fighter who would move quickly to do what she felt was right. She married young and came of age at the outbreak of World War II. She worked as a quality inspector at an aircraft factory near Atlanta. Later, on returning to New York, she worked for Knoll Inc. the modern furniture makers. She and Walter then built a house in New City and lived among many of the leading artists and writers of the time. Then came Kerries. She found one at a local shelter and later with the advice of handler Ed Conrad she bought and bred some. In time she came to know Knut Egeburg and Ch. Carholme Charles. She help Knut groom Charles and later when Knut was injured, she bought Charles, campaigned him and used him in her breeding. She served the USKBTC for many years as secretary and board member. When PNA was identified in the late 1960s Zippy provided animals and did test breedings with Dr. de la Hunta at Cornell University. She generously supported research at Cornell for years. Zippy was an environmentalist, served on the parks commission, fought for consumer rights and even helped design the local jail. Zippy could be fun. Her clothing choices were unusual and often daring. She drove a Checker Cab before there were SUVs to transport her dogs to shows. In later years as her driving grew erratic she asked "What's all the fuss about? After all I haven't drawn blood." Zippy could always be found at Westminster sitting in her box, second row center. She started attending the show as a young girl and finally saw Scarf Michael go BIS there. Zippy once said "I am a Kerry." Her spirit can be found in the spirit of our Kerries.

Reading of Minutes – October 6, 2005 Board Meeting.
Minutes approved by e-vote of board had been published in Kerry Blueprints.

Secretary's Report - Charlie Redmon reported that the applications for our fall events (Hatboro & MCKC) have been approved by AKC. He also advised the Board that the parent club's 3-year "blanket" approval of chapter club specialties is about to expire. Now is the time to review our requirements for this type of approval. Barb made a motion and seconded by Charlie that we grant chapter clubs an additional 3-year "blanket" approval but the notification letter needs to contain all the requirements set forth by the parent club for this privilege.

Discussion continued relating to information the parent club needs from chapter clubs for the approvals including a list of the club's officers, a current membership roster, location and date of their specialties and the name of their sweeps and regular class judges.

The Board agreed that chapter clubs must seek approval prior to moving their show dates and locations. They were also in agreement that chapter clubs be required to adhere to parent club policies.

Charlie will draft the PCA letter and get back to the Board for comments.

Charlie has filed the club's annual corporation reports with the State of Pennsylvania.

Treasurer's Report - Don informed the Board that the club's financial records were transferred to the Peachtree accounting system which will allow for additional flexibility when preparing reports. He reported that the club's financial year now runs from January thru December. Don updated the Board on the club's current financial status with a report that reflected a balance in our treasury of $36,121.40.

Nick suggested that we explore the possibility of opening a money market account or purchasing CDs with funds in excess of those required to operate the club.

Don suggested that since Charitable Funds is a 501(C) (3) tax exempt charity, the Parent Club should consider filing for 504 status.

He has also received information from our insurance provider about the various types of insurance available to dog clubs. Nick offered to assist him in selecting the appropriate coverage for the club.

Delegate's Report - Carl Ashby provided the Board a verbal update of the last Delegates meeting. He will submit a written report to the membership via the e-list and Blueprints.

Carl reported on some concerns voiced by members of the Performance Events committee about our proposal to participate in Earth Dog events. Members of the committee were concerned that while some Kerries may be able to compete at the Novice level, they would be unable to compete for Senior and Master level titles. Dogs competing for Senior and Master level titles are required to negotiate the 9" tunnel with an additional 6" restriction not used for the Novice title. After some discussion by the Board Carl made a motion to withdraw our Earth Dog proposal and explore Strong Dog competition, a WTA recognized event. Motion was seconded by Charlie and passed.

The Board wishes to thank Terry Worful and the members of Earth Dog committee for their hard work. Carl & Tom will talk with Terry and see if any of the information collected for the Earth Dog petition could be used for Strong Dog.

Bill Speck from AKC feels that our Herding petition should move through committee without any problem. Carl will help guide the proposal thru the AKC approval process once the petition is completed.

Committee Reports

Awards - Bonnie Whelehan is taking care of ROMs and will present them at the Annual dinner/meeting in October.

Susan Duni-
vant will have the Versatility Awards ready for presentation at dinner/meeting as well.

Gretchen Quinn and her committee are working on this year's Life Membership awards.

Sara LaGassa and Terry Worful are working on the Junior Showmanship awards committee with the hopes that the committee might have a report ready for presentation at the fall Board meeting. The Board would like to begin recognizing the achievements of those participating in Jr. Showmanship.

Blueprints – New editor Janie MacBryde's first issue came out as planned and the next issue is on schedule with a July 10 deadline for submitting content.

By-Laws - The final draft of the By Laws revision has been completed and the board will ask Bill Lynch to prepare a letter to the membership explaining the changes made by the committee.

The revisions mainly deal with modernization and clarifications so that the club can function better, while still conforming to AKC regulations.

A "clean" copy will be printed in Blueprints so that the membership can review the changes prior to voting on the revision. Carol will be requested to place a copy of the revision on the web site.

The Board wishes to thank Bill Lynch, the committee chairman and members Carl Ashby, Martha Nazak, and Gretchen Quinn for their work during this process.

Communications Committee - Reita Nicholson and Melaine Fledges have completed work on the new banners which will be displayed at the USKBTC Traveling Show this Sunday.

The committee is also in the process of working on a new breed handout/brochure.

Web site - The web site is getting a lot of use. Carol has done so much and the Board wishes to thank her for all the long hours of work.

Tom will check with Carol to see if she has any suggestions or ideas for future modifications or improvements to the site. He will also check to see if the club can do anything to make her job easier.

Montgomery - The mailing for Montgomery weekend needs to be sent to the membership as soon as possible. Historically this has been a large expensive mailing. This year most of the information is provided either on the web site or in Blueprints.

It is suggested that Charlie send the meeting notice as required by our by laws along with a copy of the scheduled events with a reminder to look for the details on the web site or in the last issue of Blueprints.

Charlie reports that he has been in contact with Dr. Deubler about the ring arrangements for the MCKC show.

Charlie has consulted with Lisa Franklin about the performance events being held during Montgomery week.

The Montgomery specialty will again serve as our qualifier for the Crufts Invitational show, with BOB, BOS and awards of Merit being given invitations.

Futurity - Mary McGreevy reports that things are moving forward for the move to the new Futurity site at Hatboro. She has located someone to serve as the "on call" Vet for the event. In the past the exhibitor gifts were provided to the club by Iams through club member Jeff Ansell. Barb informed the Board that other arrangements will need to be made for 2006 since Jeff is no longer CEO of Iams. He has accepted a position with another (non dog related) company.

The Board wishes to thank Jeff for all the years of his support and wishes him well in his new endeavor. Some members have inquired as to how the Futurity began and the rules that govern the event. Answers to most of the questions along with the rules are provided in the Futurity catalog. Since some of the membership may never have attended the event, the Board feels the information should be published in Blueprints and placed on the web site.

After reviewing the Futurity's financial records from recent years it was determined that the expenses and payouts have been running at about the same level. Nick Fletcher suggested streamlining the accounting/payout process and recommended the Board consider setting the payout at a fixed level. This would allow the Treasurer to perhaps issue checks prior to the conclusion of the weekend.

Don made a motion to set the purse level at $2,500.00 for 2006, there was discussion on keeping expenses under control and the Board agreed that the payout would be re-evaluated prior to next year. Nick seconded the motion and it passed.

Trophies - Barb & Tom reported on the status of the Traveling Trophies. The Traveling Trophies had been shipped from Philadelphia to Chicago for this year's use. UPS delivered them to the wrong house. Thanks to Bonnie Whelehan the silver trophies were retrieved but not before the bases were discarded. With help from Larry Brown and Bonnie new bases were obtained in time for use at the Traveling Show. Bob Beuter (from the historian files) will arrange for new engraved winners name plates. Barb will have storage/shipping containers made in time for the next show in California. The Board wishes to thank all those who worked on this undertaking. Barb also reported that the family of Fred Morgan has offered the club a crystal trophy with an engraved Kerry image as a memorial trophy for the Montgomery weekend.

H & G - Dr. Urs Giger will speak at the annual dinner/meeting on Factor XI Research currently being conducted at the University of Pennsylvania.

On other issues related to H & G, the Board would like to see more information provided in Blueprints and on the website. This is a very time consuming job that will require the effort of several individuals. Several club members have shown interest and will be asked to join this committee. Scott will post periodic updates on the PNA research to the elist & web site.

Judges Education - Anne Katona is doing a breed seminar at Grays Lake this weekend. Charlie & Barb will videotape this session with hopes that the club can produce a CD for educational use. Club member Dave Yeager has offered to work with the club and move this project forward.

Judges Selection (Process) - Gigi reported on what her committee has established as guidelines for selecting judges for the Specialty, Sweepstakes and Futurity shows. The guidelines will be published in Blueprints and posted on the Website.

The Board expressed its appreciation to the members of this committee (Gigi Reiling, Carl Ashby, and Dick Schaefer) for their hard work.

Now that the guidelines have been approved the Selection Committee will submit to the membership a list of judges for 2009 and future shows. It will then be the membership's task to select judges for our events.

The Selection committee will consist of Dick Schaefer, Gigi Reiling, Nick Fletcher and Margo Steinman. Their responsibility will be to manage the process, tabulate the votes and establish the judges list. They will not be responsible for the selection of the judges.

Nominating Committee - Martha Nazak chaired this committee along with Bonnie Whelehan and Dick Schaefer, (Linda Olsen and Terry Worful were alternates). The committee presented the following as a proposed slate - Lisa Frankland, Bill Kearney, Dr. Jann Lane, Tom Rogers, and Carol Wert. Bios have been received by all members proposed. The deadline for members that wish to run by petition is July 15th.

The Board would like to thank out going governors Nick Fletcher, Carol Kearney, Bryan Kincaid and Martha Nazak for their service to the Club.

Rescue - Lynn Duckett has officially resigned as the USKBTC rescue chair. The Board expressed their appreciation for Lynn's many years of service in that capacity. A committee has been established to review current USKBTC rescue policies and procedures and make recommendations related to any necessary changes. The committee consisting of Tia Hewlett committee chair, Lynn Duckett, Nicole Carfora and Lisa Frankland will submit their final report to the Board.

Don suggested that the Board inform the committee that it is the Board's intention to provide each chapter club with a set of guidelines and generic forms for use in local rescues.

Lynn reported that the last two dogs handled by USKBTC rescue were given to us by millers to get rid of them. When the mill owners found that the club would no longer pay anything for their dogs they were turned over free of charge.

Kerrytoon Book Update - Carol Kearney has reported that sales are good and cases of the book are being made available to chapter clubs at a discounted price for resale.

Carol is setting up a book signing for Montgomery, the author Fred Fishell has offered to be available to sign books during the weekend.

The Board expressed its appreciation to Fred & Carol for their work on this project. All proceeds from the book will go to support USKBTC Charitable Funds.

2007 Annual Dinner Location - The Board discussed arrangements for the annual dinner at Fishers Tudor House in Bensalem. Since the Futurity site has moved to Hatboro on Saturday, the Board understands that there may be some problems experienced by people commuting from the RV site to dinner. Many staying on site may worry about leaving their units alone with dogs in them. Options will be explored as to how we could transport people to and from the dinner and provide security at the site during dinner.

Mourning The Wild Geese
A Ghost Story

By Bob & Martha Nazak

Prologue

The saga of “The Wild Geese” began with the Williamite War (1688-1691). The death of the Protestant King Charles II in 1685 resulted in his brother James, a Roman Catholic, succeeding him on the throne. As England was solidly Protestant, this was not a universally popular situation. James soon found himself in conflict with his protestant subjects as he moved to eliminate obstacles to free worship by Catholics and other “dissenters”. His Lord Deputy in Ireland began implementing policies that transferred power from the incumbent Protestant leadership to Catholics. When in June 1688 James had a son, guaranteeing Roman Catholic succession, the Protestants mounted the “Glorious Revolution”. They invited the Protestant William of Orange to become King. Quickly seizing upon the opportunity, William landed at Torbay on 5 November 1688 and advanced on London. James fled to France and William became king in February 1689. The party which continued to support James was called the Jacobites, derived from Jacobus, the Latin for James. By March, The Earl of Tyrconnell raised an Irish army to support James who had landed in Ireland to establish a base from which to support the recovery of his throne. The resulting conflict took place entirely in Ireland. The Battle of the Boyne (June 1690) was a key event in the war leading to the return of James to France in July and William keeping the throne. The war lingered on and ended with the Treaty of Limerick in September 1691 which allowed the Jacobite army to leave Ireland for France, and provided for civil articles promising religious tolerance of Catholics. King William supported compliance with the articles; however the Irish Parliament refused to pass them. This outcome left Ireland devastated, in the hands of a ruling minority and established a contentious legacy that lives to this day.

The Jacobite army was eventually disestablished by the Treaty of Ryswick in 1698. However, the brigade of Irishmen that had originally been sent to France in 1688 [part of the price for French support] remained an integral part of the French army. A steady stream of volunteers from Erin replaced the brigade’s numerous casualties. Recruiters had little problem enlisting poor country lads, who under the harsh Penal Laws had been reduced to virtual serfdom. Since it was illegal for the Irish, considered British citizens by the Crown, to join foreign armies, the recruits for the French service were listed as “Wild Geese” on ship manifests. Heavy with unspoken symbolism, these men would be known forever after by that name.

This tradition of the “Irish Brigades”, started in France, grew to include service in the armies of many other nations and participation in their wars. In South America Bernardo O’Higgins became the Liberator of Chile and Admiral William Brown, from Mayo, became the Father of the Argentine Navy. Of personal interest to me (Naval Academy, class of ’58), members of the Irish Brigade of France served as Marines with John Paul Jones on his ship the “Bonhomme Richard” and others were at Yorktown with Rochambeau.

The poet Emily Lawless said it best in her poem “Fontenoy, 1745: Early dawn, Clare coast”: Fighters in every clime --- Every cause but our own. “The “Wild Geese” were found on both sides of the American Civil War.

And so our story

A Trip To Gettysburg

On a cold, windy and very bleak day in December 2002, we left home for a short trip to Gettysburg to visit the battlefield -- we being Martha, myself and our own “Wild Goose”, Amy. Since Amy is a central character in this little tale, perhaps we should take a moment to introduce and understand her.

Amy, whose full name was Champion Bluebeard's All-American Girl, CGC, was a 12 year old Kerry Blue Terrier and a well established member of our family. She accompanied us on the trip because of that status along with the fact that she was still adjusting to the recent loss of our male Kerry Blue, Ollie, who was her father. Since Ollie's death, Amy was a bit of a lost soul as the two had been inseparable buddies for almost all of her 12 years and so we tended to include her in many more activities than normal. In reality, we probably did so as much to help ourselves make the adjustment to Ollie's loss.

The Kerry Blue (also called the Irish Blue Terrier) has its roots in the hills and farms of County Kerry. Its origins are unclear, the most likely theory points to a working farm dog derived from various other Irish terrier breeds (some include the Irish Wolfhound in the list) --whatever the truth, the Kerry Blue is a delight. Officially recognized in the 1920s with the formation of the Dublin Irish Blue Terrier Club, the American and English Kennel Clubs quickly followed suit. Its history tends to be linked to one of the breed's better-known owners, General Michael Collins. His Kerry was named Convict 224. The popularity of the Kerry Blue increased dramatically in the Dublin area as Collins gained in stature and it became the "macho" symbol of the young blades. Perhaps the Kerry Blue inherited the feistiness and independent spirit from men like Michael Collins. This spirit, as much as their beauty, has endeared all of us to the breed. They are truly charming rouges, full of fun, a bit of mischief, but completely devoted to the "pack," that's us.

Why Gettysburg?

The original purpose of our trip to Gettysburg had little to do with Wild Geese, Irish independence, General Michael Collins, John Paul Jones or even Irish dogs; we were making a visit of discovery and remembrance of a family member who fought at Gettysburg. Martha's Great Grandfather, Brevet Brigadier General George W. West, fought with the 17th Maine Volunteer Infantry Regiment at Gettysburg. Over the past several years we had been doing research on "The General" (his title among family members) and his role in the American Civil War. He volunteered for service early in the war when, in October 1861, he recruited a Company of Maine woodsmen and joined the 10th Maine Infantry Regiment. He served with distinction as Commander of Company "D" until May 1862 when he was appointed a Major with the newly formed 17th Maine Infantry Volunteers. Major West eventually rose to the rank of Colonel and assumed command of the regiment. He was brevetted to Brigadier General for bravery after the Battle of the Wilderness, where he was severely wounded. While retaining his regimental command he was also assigned Brigade commands for the remainder of the war. The regiment had an outstanding record of service and the Regimental colors flew battle streamers bearing names that have become legend; Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, the Wilderness and, of course, Gettysburg. The record of service was not without a price; The 17th Maine Regiment sustained the heaviest battle losses of any Maine Infantry Regiment. Of 1,371 men enrolled, 207 were killed, 552 wounded, 163 died of disease and 31 were in Confederate prisons. At Gettysburg alone, the regiment suffered 133 casualties among the 350 men assigned.

"The General"

“The Wheatfield”

The 2nd of July 1863 found the 17th Maine in Gettysburg as part of the General George Meade’s Army of The Potomac, defending a position on the far left flank of the Union forces. The defensive line extended along Cemetery Ridge to Little Round Top. Part of General Philip de Trobriand’s Third Brigade, the 17th was positioned in the vicinity of what came to be known as “The Wheatfield.”

The Wheatfield was located south of the town on the Rose Farm, midway between the rocky granite boulders of Devil's Den and a Peach Orchard. The field had a trapezoidal shape and was hemmed in by woods. The twenty acres of open ground were occasionally littered with a boulder or a tree. A fence separated the Wheatfield from the marshy area nearby. The woods surrounding the Wheatfield were known as Rose Woods, Stony Hill, and Trostle's Woods. When farmer George Rose planted his field that spring of 1863 little did he realize that it was to become infamous and the site of some of the fiercest fighting of the Civil War. There were many wheat fields in and about Gettysburg but only one is called “The Wheatfield”. When Rose built the low stone wall along the southern end of his field, he had no realization that it would prove to be so vital to Major West and the 17th Maine.

The notoriety of the Wheatfield almost certainly was the result of an ill-conceived forward movement by General Daniel Sickles of the Union Third Corps. Without authorization from General George Meade, Sickles moved his corps forward almost 3/4ths of a mile in front of the Union lines. Forming a new line that was a mile and a half long and held by what would prove to be far too few men.

The Battle

On the afternoon of July 2, 1863, the Wheatfield became the center of a swirling, confused whirlpool of fighting. At the time of the battle of July 2, the Wheatfield was golden with ripening grain. By the end of the day, the wheat would be trampled and the ground soaked with blood. It was in this whirlpool that the disparate elements of our story -- “Wild Geese”, Irish dogs, Independence fighters, the American Civil War, and relatives from 17th Maine -- began to come together.

At about 4:00 pm the Southern forces began their attack in the vicinity of what became known as “the Devil’s Den”. General de Trobriand redeployed the 17th Maine to the stonewall that bordered the southern boundary of the Wheatfield. From this position the 17th was able to provide effective flanking fire against the Southern forces attacking the Devil’s Den. This support role was quickly to end as Confederate General “Tige” Anderson's Georgia Brigade began moving through Rose Woods toward the Wheatfield. The 17th found itself under direct attack by the 11th Georgia. Using the protection of the stone wall, the boys from Maine were barely managing to repulse the attack of the Georgians when, on the right flank, their support gave way. To combat this, Major West ordered his companies on the right flank to refuse the battle line and bend back into the Wheatfield. The men on that flank would no longer have the protection of a wall, but they would still resist the Confederates bravely. Though outnumbered by Anderson’s Brigade, de Trobriand’s units kept the Confederates at bay for nearly an hour. Charge and counter charge became the order of the day, casualties to both sides rapidly mounted. Anderson skillfully maneuvered his soldiers, conserving ammunition and manpower. The overtaxed northerners desperately needed re-enforcements. The 17th had used up all of its ammunition and was ordered to withdraw. They retreated up into the Wheatfield closely followed by Anderson’s men who triumphantly swarmed over the Stonewall. To buy more time for re-enforcements to arrive, General Birney, who commanded that portion of the Union line, ordered the 17th Maine to about face and conduct a desperate bayonet charge. The counterattack succeeded in temporarily driving Anderson’s men from the field. Rallied by their officers, the Georgians renewed their attack as Union re-enforcements arrived on the scene.

Enter the “Wild Geese”. Colonel Patrick Kelly’s Irish Brigade was among the forces that relieved the 17th Maine in the Wheatfield that afternoon. Known for their heroism and fighting spirit, the Irish Brigade barely mustered 530 men of its original 2500 that afternoon. The Brigade had served with distinction and gallantry in some of the hardest fought battles of the war. Gettysburg was to be no exception and by sunset of 2 July 1863, an additional 198 “Wild Geese” would join the casualty list. Fierce fighting would continue until sunset with the Wheatfield ending the day in Confederate hands. The field and nearby woods were strewn with more than 4000 dead and wounded. The third of July would find the Confederate Army defeated in an even bloodier battle -- Pickett’s Charge. In the end, the gallant and bloody sacrifices on the Wheatfield sadly did not change anything.

Touring the Battlefield

We arrived at Gettysburg, bundled up against the cold and headed to the visitor center to get an overview of the park and any available information on the 17th Maine. Before we set out on our tour, we strolled around the grounds near the center to give Amy a chance to stretch her legs. She seemed to enjoy strolling about and investigating all of the new sniffs. In particular she really enjoyed the attention she received from the many visitors. Amy was a “people person” of the highest order. As Kerries always seem to attract attention in a crowd of people, Amy always took full advantage of the situation. She clearly was having a good time and that made us feel as if we had accomplished at least one part of the trip’s goals. Our plan was to do a driving tour of the battlefield following the chronology of the three day battle. This would place the 2 July actions of the 17th Maine in the context of what happened the days before and after the battle for the Wheatfield. We followed the route, stopping to view monuments, historic markers, and the scenery. Amy took this opportunity to get very comfortable in the back of the car and enjoy a nice nap. Considering the weather, she probably was the smart one among us. After about an hour and a half we found ourselves approaching the Wheatfield and the real focus of our visit.

Amy continued to enjoy her nap, only stirring to observe our leaving or returning to the car. Approaching the Wheatfield, we were taken by the peaceful vista before us. The barren field was dotted with monuments and markers dedicated to the combatants who fought there; otherwise there was not another person in sight. A scene like this was probably more typical of a cold

December day and likely very rare in tourist season. Our research on the battle included many photos of battlefield dead taken at the time. It was hard to forget the over 4000 casualties. Entering the field, we could not really see the low stone wall so vital to Major West and the 17th Maine that day. We walked toward the southern boundary of the field and spotted the monument dedicated to the 17th Maine; then we saw the stone wall. We walked about the area and tried to visualize the scene that terrible afternoon. It was a difficult task to reconcile the peaceful park before us and the descriptions of the violence we read about in the histories. Looking over the wall we tried to imagine the charge of the 11th Georgia through the woods -- the shouting, rifle and cannon fire, and the terror of the moment. We wondered just how the low wall provided much security and protection. Most of all, we felt the sadness that lingered as a permanent memory to all of those casualties. As we touched the wall, we felt pride in the sacrifices that both sides had made for their causes; causes that each firmly supported; and we were quietly thankful that General West had survived. His survival was a vital prelude to a chain of events that, thankfully, led to the trip and the moment. As we returned to the car, we observed that Amy continued to snooze and was blissfully unaware of the profound experiences that we had shared.

As we studied at our map we noted that in a nearby woody area there was a monument to the Irish Brigade that had relieved the 17th Maine on that afternoon. Realizing that this was one of the contributing factors to the General's surviving and our being here, we decided that a stop was in order. The Monument is set in the woods adjacent to the Wheatfield and is dedicated to the three New York Regiments of the Irish Brigade. Over 2500 Irish immigrants had been recruited to fill the ranks.

The monument features a Celtic cross, an effigy of an Irish Wolfhound lies at its base in mournful respect. Though not at Gettysburg, an Irish Wolfhound, the traditional Irish symbol of loyalty, was the mascot of the Brigade. As we drove from the Wheatfield up a rocky, wooded hill we observed that the mood was even more somber, particularly on such a gray, overcast day. As we approached the monument Amy began to stir in the back seat. She started to pace about on the seat and whimper softly. This was not at all like Amy. By the time we stopped the car, she was really quite agitated, and we were quite unsure just what the problem was. She had recently been exercised and given a drink of water. She was well. There were no animals or birds about. There were no other visitors in the area. We couldn't understand her actions and tried to settle her but without success. We decided to take her with us as we walked but outside the car she paced and whined even more. Unable to console her, Martha decided to remain in the car while I went out to view and photograph the monument. I approached the monument and was taken by its beauty and the poignant use of the Wolfhound as part of the design. The monument was dedicated in 1888, the work of sculptor Rudolph O'Donovan and includes the verse:

*"Of those who in their manhood died to blot out Slavery's stain,
And rear aloft in all its pride, fair Freedom's flag again!
'Tis ours to raise this cross on high above the Irish dead,
Who showed mankind the way to die, when Truth and Freedom led."*

-- from Our Fallen Comrades, by William Collins, 1888.

I walked about the monument, taking several photos, all the time listening to Martha try to calm Amy. I decided to cut the stop short and return to the car. Martha had become quite frustrated by the situation and we decided to move on. We continued through the woods for a short distance and emerged back into an open field. Finally Amy began to settle down and sat on the seat looking at us as if nothing had happened. We looked at each other and thought – another new Kerry trick. The time was getting late and darkness was approaching so we decided to end the tour and head into the Town for an early dinner before heading back to Virginia. We stopped at a diner that looked interesting. Of course it was named "The Lincoln Diner," (with a Gettysburg address? Sorry). We ordered dinner, and as we waited, drinking very welcome hot coffee, we discussed the events of the day. Of particular note was the overwhelming feeling of sadness we experienced when we tried to imagine those terrible days in 1863 through the eyes of a relative who suffered them and survived. Martha commented that if anyplace in this country had earned the right to be haunted it was Gettysburg.

We both stopped and looked at each other thinking of Amy's behavior at the Irish Brigade Monument. Could that explain her behavior? We both were skeptics when it came to the subject of the paranormal so we reviewed what had happened and tried to determine a logical explanation to Amy's unusual behavior. Try as we might we could not find an explanation. All of the normal triggers for her behavior just weren't there. We couldn't explain her actions.

We lost Amy shortly after the incident and to this day we often think about that afternoon in Gettysburg in 2002 and wonder just what it was that upset her.

We would like to think that, perhaps, she joined the Wolfhound in mourning a phantom flock of Wild Geese as they flew east?

That'll Do, Kerry Blue! ...Diary of a Sheep Herding Kerry

By Jann Steel Lane, Ph.D.
Part 1

*My name is Mackenzie. I am a Kerry Blue Terrier. I have a strong prey drive.
I am learning to herd sheep and ducks.
-Mackenzie "Kenzie" Lane, 6 years old*

Herding Fun Day, Fun for Whom?

Summer of 2004

What started as a Fun Day in 2004 purely to increase member participation in our local club has become much more. Today it is a performance event where Kerries can not only obtain titles, but can also develop a greater bond with their owners and increase their personal confidence, calming a strong temperament. All of this can occur through the sheer participation in the supervised herding of sheep or ducks with a certified herding trainer.

I thought herding was a great idea. One-half of the people I told thought I was crazy; the other half looked as if they were envisioning what their Kerry would do to a sheep. After much searching on the internet, I found Judy Vanderford, AKC Herding Judge who had 60 head of sheep in Sunland, California. She had never seen a Kerry Blue Terrier herd sheep, but she had held Fun Days for Wheatens and Corgis. Most importantly, she was interested in introducing our Kerries to sheep.

What I was not so sure about was, 'were our Kerries ready for the sheep?' By the time I had the Herding Fun Day set up, I had convinced everyone in our club that Judy knew how to protect the sheep, how to protect the dogs and nothing was going to go wrong. Plus, we had a lot of insurance. I had faith in Judy, but I also knew I had a Kerry who was a very strong dog. When she showed in conformation, she looked her best when there was a white toy breed showing in the next ring. Otherwise, she did what she was asked to do and finished her championship. I showed her at specialties to support the club, but she was not going to be a Special. She did not have the interest. I really missed having an activity where I was directly involved with her as her handler.

I Know Other Kerries Can Herd, But Can

My Kerry?

April 2, 2005

Herding Fun Day had arrived. My anxiety was increasing. We had the best turn out ever for an event, with 12 Kerries entered for an unofficial instinct testing. Secretly, I was worried about my dog. Would she mistake the sheep for a large white dog? My husband showed further moral support by asking if we should be prepared to buy a sheep. What happened next will forever change how I view my dogs.

Sunday morning at 7:00 AM, I arrived at Judy's place in Sunland, and took Kenzie out of her crate from the back of our SUV to set up. She stopped and stared at the sheep in the pen. They stared back. Judy had told me to watch the expressions of the dogs and sheep when they first see each other. These sheep had never seen a Kerry Blue and our Kerries had never seen sheep. The looks on both were much like the sheep in the movie "Babe" when they saw the pig. Astounded! "Is it a wolf?"

"I saw the sheep as I got out of my crate and I knew what I was meant to do!" -Kenzie

Like the good, courteous organizer, I encouraged everyone else to go first. I kept Kenzie crated. Everyone was passing instinct testing with flying colors. I was very happy for them and our event, but I was personally afraid for myself. Then it was my turn. Kenzie had been barking in her crate far too long, which is a herding no-no. Already I thinking--- this is not good. At best, I will be embarrassed, at worst, well, I could not even think of the worst. The judge/trainer can take the dogs in on lead into the sheep pen for the instinct test. Thank goodness.

*"I was barking because I wanted my sheep!
Finally, I get to herd and she's not taking me in!" -Kenzie*

Judy took Kenzie in on a knotted rope lead to see how she first reacted, just as she had the other dogs. Kenzie strained at the lead, and then Judy let her go. My strong, highly prey driven Kerry Blue gathered the sheep, ran after one that got away and did it all with out barking. She knew what to do! How did she know this? This beautiful sight brought tears to my eyes. I was witnessing hundreds maybe thousands of years of pure genetics. No training. You could see the joy in Kenzie's expression, that mouth-open, panting, 'I don't want to stop' look on her face. She became alive. In addition, I knew what she was meant to do at that moment. Judy looked at me and said, calmly, "You need to do herding with this dog." She was right.

Does Strong Prey Drive and Herding Sheep Mix?

Judy had explained to us that prey drive is a good thing. If you do not have prey drive, you cannot move stock and you cannot do herding. The definition of herding, is "controlled" prey drive. And the good news is that you can teach the controlled prey drive. The dog uses its power and presence to move the stock. A person cannot move sheep without a dog. The dog has to learn how much pressure, how much movement, and how much closeness are needed to move sheep. Every dog is different and needs to learn the varying degrees of pressure to move sheep. The herding performance events offered by the AKC and the American Herding Breed Association are a series of tests and trials with increasing difficulty where you and your dog move sheep as a team. It is not easy, but it is not impossible, and it is extremely rewarding. Our breed is highly intelligent, and still tough, which helps a lot.

Kenzie and I returned home that night exhausted. I could tell I had a different dog. Now I had decisions to make and a lot to learn.

Next Issue: Part 2 "What Herding is Teaching our Kerries." Kenzie begins regular herding lessons. Her herding partner begins learning about herding events. We learn that other Kerries are having the same success across the country. We learn we have a herding community, welcoming the Kerry.

A Word from Charitable Funds...

As many of you know the US Kerry Blue Charitable Fund was established in 2002. Its purpose was to serve the Kerry Blue Terrier in four important areas:

- 1) Rescue Fund – this fund supports grants used to provide Kerry Blue Terrier rescue services.
- 2) Health and Genetics Fund - this fund makes grants in support of research in areas of health and genetics of particular importance to the Kerry Blue Terrier.
- 3) Education Fund – the education fund supports education of all those interested in the Kerry Blue Terrier including publications, websites, and seminars.
- 4) General Fund – donations to this fund are used to support the work of the other funds through internal grants to those funds. Undesignated gifts will initially be held in this fund.

Since the Fund was established we have worked diligently to build the assets of the Funds while undertaking major support of the PNA Research being done at the University of Missouri. To date we have awarded over $20,000 in grants to support Health and Genetics, Education, and Rescue. This is quite impressive, since our Fund is relatively new compared to other Parent Clubs whose equivalent organizations are often decades older than ours.

Our current objective is to continue to grow fund assets while undertaking occasional substantial support such as the PNA Grant. We believe the real key to long term growth will be planned giving that includes the Funds in the wills of our members. Other comparable organizations have used this method as the key to growing their assets. The reality is that we must grow our financial resources substantially in order to having a meaningful impact and that means it will take many years to be in a position to have a significant impact on our core areas.

You can help by considering making the Funds one of the recipients of your estate. In addition, support an area of interest today. We have grown our asset base through small gifts and that will be crucial to our future.

Feel free to contact any Board member for more information on how you can make a difference!

Herding News!

Dave Yeager

You probably know by now, but just in case you didn't hear, the AKC approved the Kerry Blue Terrier for participation in AKC Herding events beginning in January 2007. Unlike other breeds in the past, the KBT has been granted full eligibility, so this is a small primer on AKC Herding events and what is available.

The AKC herding program can be divided into two event types; Tests and Trials. Tests are non-competitive events judged on a Pass/Fail basis. Trials are competitive events, and like other performance events, are standardized tests with a structured point system for the tests and the championships.

Both the tests and trails are titled events, with the exception of the Herding Instinct Test, where a certificate is issued, but no title is available.

Although there isn't a formal path of progression for the AKC Herding program, the logical progression would be Instinct Test, Herding Test, Pre-Trial Test, Trials.

Instinct Test

The arena for this test is round or oval, ranging in size from 50x50 to 100x100. The dog is brought into the arena on a long lead. While on the lead the dog must demonstrate a stop (sit, down or stand) and a recall. A dog that cannot be recalled will remain on lead for the remainder of the test. For the test, the judge will issue general commands to the handler to determine the dog's interest and abilities to move and control the livestock. An AKC Instinct Tested Certificate is issued when the dog has been certified by two judges to have qualified by passing two separate licensed or member Herding Instinct Tests.

If you've never had any exposure to livestock before, this is the place to start. The instinct test is a great way to see if you and your dog will like working with livestock. Although attending a clinic before taking an instinct test would be nice, it is not a requirement.

Herding Test

The arena for a Herding Test can range from 100x100 to 100x200. Either an oval or a round arena is acceptable. Inside the arena are two pylons, placed at opposite ends of the arena. A dog must complete all test elements within the allotted 10 minutes to qualify.

The handler enters the arena with the dog on lead. After the judge has determined the dog is under control, the handler may remove the lead. The testing and time begin when the lead is removed. The dog must be under control and demonstrate the ability to move the stock from the first pylon to the second, and then back to the first pylon, and then finally back to the second pylon again. The test is concluded at or near the second pylon with a stop command followed by a recall. The handler then leashes the dog and leaves the arena. The AKC permits the usage of the letters HT by dogs that have been certified by two different judges to have passed two licensed or member Herding Tests.

It is expected that you and your dog have had some formal training before you attempt the Herding Test. This test will require you and your dog to demonstrate an ability to move the stock between pylons and to change their direction.

Pre-Trial Test

The Pre-Trial Test is designed for handler/dog teams that aren't quite ready for beginning trial level. The arena for a Pre-Trial Test can range from 100x200 to 200x400. For these tests, corners need not be rounded. A dog does not need to have earned the Herding Test title to participate in the tests for the PT title, but handlers are encouraged to follow that path to benefit from the experience that each test provides. Like the other tests, the dog enters the arena on lead. Once the judge determines the dog is under control, the handler may remove the lead, which indicates the start of the test and time. From this point, the handler/dog team has 10 minutes to move the livestock through the course, clearing four gates and changing direction one time. Half way through the course the dog will demonstrate a stop, allowing the livestock to "graze". At the completion of the test, the dog will again demonstrate a stay while the handler opens the pen gate. Finally, the dog's ability to pen the stock will be displayed.

Like the Herding Test, you and your dog should be in an active training program before considering the Pre-Trial Test.

Herding Trials

Herding trials are divided into three classes; Started, Intermediate and Advanced. Like other performance sports, each class contains three legs. The successful completion of three legs is required to acquire the corresponding herding title or championship. Each class offers three courses; A, B and C.

Course A is an all around farm course containing posts and obstacles. Course B is an open field trial to demonstrate the dog's abilities in extended areas. Course C is meant to reflect a Shepard's day, moving stock between grazing areas.

Both you and your dog should be in an active training program before entering Herding Trials. The dog should also be capable of following visual obedience commands given from an extensive distance.

Further Info

The complete regulations for the AKC Herding program can be found at <http://www.akc.org/pdfs/rulebooks/RG9001.pdf>.

An excellent source for finding AKC Herding events in your area can also be found on the AKC website at <http://www.akc.org/events/search/> and enter the competition "Herding Tests and Trails". Since Herding events are extremely limited to the number of dogs, you may want to consider making early entries to ensure a place in the event.

You need to send either a blood sample or cheek swabs but not both and we prefer, a blood sample. To receive swab kits, please email penngen@vet.upenn.edu number animals to be tested, name and address. If you have further questions contact us via this email or call (215) 898-3375 or (215) 898- 8894.

Blood Sample Collection (performed by a veterinary clinician or nurse)

1. Label one EDTA (purple top) tube with owner's last name and animal's name (or AKC#)
2. Take a 1-2-ml blood sample.
3. A blood sample must be kept cold but not frozen until shipping.
4. Complete required submission form and mail with sample.
5. Mail tube in mailer by 2-day delivery or regular service. Your veterinarian may have special Styrofoam containers or cardboard mailers to send blood tubes in a Ziplock™ bag in bubble wrap for protection.
6. For international shipment a customs declaration and proforma invoice must be filled out (see our website).

Cheek Swab Sample Collection

1. To avoid contamination with food, do not feed the animal at least three hours before you collect the sample.
2. Wash your hands before you collect the sample.
3. Label the packages that contain the cheek swab brushes with the owner's last name and the animal's name and/or AKC number.
4. Open the end of the swab package that shows the word, "peel," printed on it. Be careful not to touch the brush end as you remove the swab.
5. You may also wish to ask a second person to gently restrain the animal's head while you collect the DNA sample.
6. Insert brush end between the animal's gums and inside of the cheek. Roll the brush on the surface of the inside of the cheek for 15-20 seconds. Make sure that the brush is in contact with the cheek and not just with the saliva.
7. Return brush to its original package, allow it to dry, and then tape the opened end shut.
8. Repeat steps 3-5 for the second brush using opposite side of mouth. Two to three swab brushes are needed for each animal tested.
9. If you plan to test another animal, remember to wash your hands before you start with the next dog.
10. Secure brushes from each animal tested in a separate Ziplock™ bag.
11. The samples can be mailed by regular or express mail to address below.

Your participation and your animal's results will be kept strictly confidential!

THE UNITED STATES KERRY BLUE TERRIER CLUB CODE OF ETHICS

This document defines the ethical standards to which we ascribe as a condition of membership in the United States Kerry Blue Terrier Club (USKBTC). Membership is a privilege conferred by the Board of Governors, acting for the Membership, upon those individuals who meet the high standards set forth in the Club Constitution and Bylaws and this Code. As members, we are individually charged with complying with this code and demanding similar compliance of all other members. We must hold the interest of the Kerry Blue Terrier superior to our own in exercising the responsibilities that accompany the privileges of membership.

I. RESPONSIBILITIES AS A MEMBER

- Members of the USKBTC, as Stewards to the breed, have the obligation to protect and serve the best interests of the Kerry Blue Terrier at all times. A member's every action should reflect credit on themselves, the USKBTC and, above all, the Kerry Blue Terrier.
- The approved standard for the breed is the fundamental imperative guiding our actions. Members have the obligation to protect and serve these standards as a condition of membership.
- Members must be familiar with and comply with the rules of the American Kennel Club (AKC); the Constitution and By-laws of the USKBTC; and (as appropriate) the rules established by any member club of the USKBTC.
- Members will observe the highest standards of conduct and sportsmanship at all times. Whether as a breeder, exhibitor, or spectator, they shall conduct themselves in a manner that reflects positively on the Kerry Blue Terrier, dogs in general, and the sport of showing dogs.

- Members shall maintain the highest standards of health and sanitation for their own Kerry Blue Terriers, as well as for any other animals in their possession or entrusted to their care. They shall demand the same high standards of others, members and non-members alike.

II. RESPONSIBILITIES AS A BREEDER

A Breeder shall:

- Be guided at all times by the approved standard for the Kerry Blue Terrier and shall consider breeding only those specimens that conform to the standard.
- When contemplating breeding a litter or providing the services of a stud dog, strive toward maintaining breed type and producing dogs of exceptional quality, temperament, and condition. Breeding or supporting breeding to a lesser standard is not acceptable.
- Use for breeding only those dogs that are healthy and free from serious congenital and hereditary defects. Refrain from further use, any bitch or stud dog that has developed such a health problem or produced any serious inherited defects detrimental to the offspring and the overall well being of the breed.
- Not use a bitch for breeding prior to reaching eighteen (18) months of age (preferably 24 months) or older than eight (8) years of age. A bitch should not be bred more than two (2) out of three (3) consecutive heat cycles, nor produce more than five (5) litters in her lifetime. Recognizing the variations in heat cycles and sizes of litters, valid exceptions may exist, however it is incumbent on the breeder to exercise good judgment in exercising such exceptions.
- Not sell puppies to pet shops either outright or on consignment; supply puppies for auctions, raffles, or other such activities; refrain from selling to persons whose intention (either known or suspected) is to resell or use the puppy in a breeding program not complying with this code of ethics. The breeder shall ensure that the prospective buyer is prepared to provide the same degree of care required of members of the USKBTC. The Code of Ethics should be provided and discussed with potential buyers as part of a thorough screening process. All buyers should be encouraged to become members of the USKBTC and member clubs.
- Promptly apply for AKC registration of the litter. Puppies should not be sold prior to reaching ten (10) weeks of age (preferably 12 weeks). The sale of every dog shall include a signed registration or registration application (Blue Slip), and a four-generation pedigree. Any exceptions to these requirements, or valid restrictions or limitations imposed as conditions to the sale (e.g., no breeding) must be agreed to in writing by both parties at the time of sale. It is strongly recommended that a written agreement accompany all sales. Buyers should be provided with assistance and support in the setting of ears and in learning proper grooming. If the buyer is not located in the same area, the breeder should make arrangements with another USKBTC member in that area to assist the new owner.
- Provide with each sale, a record of dated and types of immunization given, immunizations required, and veterinary health records. Instructions should be provided, preferably in writing, on diseases and hereditary factors related to the breed, proper medical care, feeding, and grooming. Providing a copy of the current USKBTC Handbook represents a means of conveying this type of information, and is a sound investment on the part of the breeder. No puppy should be sold without either temporary or permanent protection against distemper-hepatitis and parvo. Puppies should have a veterinary examination, and worming if required, before sale.
- Maintain accurate and complete records of stock, matings, pedigrees, show records, and transfers. Breeders are responsible for conducting research on their pedigrees to ensure correct ancestry, accurate spelling of names, and correct registration numbers. Breeders should be familiar with and comply with all record keeping requirements required by the AKC. Litter registration applications must be correct and promptly requested. Individual puppy registration should be completed in a timely manner.
- Shall not engage in false or misleading advertising or other misrepresentations with respect to their own breeding. They shall not malign others by making false or misleading statements regarding another member's dogs, breeding practices, or person. Advertising should not be worded to attract undesirable buyers nor encourage raising dogs for profit.
- Consider the growing problems related to excess dogs ending up in animal shelters and should exercise sound judgment and prudent restraint in their breeding programs. Litters should be limited to numbers that are consistent with achieving a sound breeding program and the best interests of the Kerry Blue Terrier.
- Be prepared to assume lifetime responsibility for any litter produced.

III. RESPONSIBILITIES AS AN EXHIBITOR OR HANDLER

- Act professionally at all times in caring for and exhibiting any dog in your charge.
- Do not engage in any questionable contact with judges prior to exhibiting under them.
- Comply with AKC Rules and Regulations for Dog Shows, Obedience Trials, Field Trials, and The Guidelines for Dog Show Judges.
- Exhibit or handle only those dogs that conform as closely as possible to the approved standard.
- Do not indulge in the practice of making "kennel majors", or exhibiting filler dogs that they know themselves to be unworthy of championships, for the purpose of finishing dogs. Such practices lessen the meaning and value of a championship and do not serve the breed.

IV. ENFORCEMENT

- The USKBTC expects adherence to this Code of Ethics and blatant disregard of these standards will not be condoned. Violations of the standards are not in the best interests of the Club or the breed. Such behavior can serve as a cause of imposing discipline or terminating membership if charges are brought before the Board of Governors in accordance with the procedures as defined in Article VI (Discipline) of the USKBTC Constitution and Bylaws.
- Article VI addresses the specific procedures for proffering charges; the hearing process; and the rights of the parties involved. Each member is expected to be fully familiar with this very important provision of the By-laws.
